
Dear WCPC Family,

It is hard for me to believe that October is more than halfway over! But that means we have some of our Fall activities coming up this weekend. So, I'll start with those announcements/reminders.

Fall Festival

The Children's and Tweens Ministry Team has redesigned Trunk or Treat for this year and is inviting our members and regular visitors to RSVP for their children and grandchildren to attend on Friday evening, Oct. 23rd on the WCPC grounds from 6:30-8 pm.

We are doing the event a little differently this year to best social distance everyone and are encouraging you to wear your safety masks as well as any costume masks. Fun activities will include a Costume Parade, a Cake Walk with a little bit Spooky Obstacle Course and Mummy Wrap game where the adult members of the family are wrapped up like mummies! (But no decorated trunks this year.)

Kona Ice will be there too and we will hand out treat bags with the very important, candy to all the children attending so we need a headcount to prepare the bags so RSVP asap!

Use the link below to RSVP for the Fall Festival happening on Oct. 23rd:

Blood Drive

There's a part of me that wants to joke about vampires, but I'll leave that to your imagination...

But seriously, the Gulf Coast Regional Blood bank is bringing one of their donation coaches to the WCPC parking lot for our Fall Blood Drive. It is NOT too late to sign up!!!! So please do so ASAP. Please note that some of the restrictions on who can give have changed, so if you've been unable to give in the past, but would like to try again, please check to see if you are now eligible. There is more information on the attached flyer.

Sunday School

This Sunday, the children, tweens, and youth begin in person Sunday School classes. Please look for more information from Susan Duncan (children and Tweens) or from the Youth Remind.

Adult classes will continue to meet on Zoom. Several have moved their start times earlier so that those who wish to attend worship in person may do so.

Connecting Through the Bible is continues their study of II Corinthians. For more information or a Zoom link, please contact Dave Watkins.

Texts in Context take a deeper dive into the lectionary texts for each Sunday. For more information or a Zoom link, please contact Bob Campbell.

The First Place 4 Health class is finishing up their study of Women of the Bible from last spring. You can get more information or join this group by contacting Mary Jo Chapman.

Weekday Study Opportunities

The Monday Morning Women's Bible Study is learning about the Psalms using a past Horizons Bible Study. For more information or a Zoom link, contact Laura Grice.

Both Presbyterian Women Circles are meeting on Zoom and are using the current Horizons Bible Study. For more information about these circles, please see our newsletter.

The Wednesday Study Group has resumed their study History of Christianity II from the Great Courses. To learn more about this group or to get a Zoom link, please contact Sylvia Campbell.

David Jones' men's groups are also meeting, and you can get more information about times and format from him.

Other Spiritual Formation Resources

You may wish to continue to use resources from the Presbyterian Outlook or from the Worshiping with Children blog.

A link to where I've gotten the digital version of These Days can be found here, or you can find the October pages attached to this email.

I hope that these resources are helpful as you continue your journey of discipleship. We look forward to worshipping with you either in person or virtually this Sunday,

God's Peace,

Laura
